

A FORUM FOR ACTION

CREATING A FUTURE WHERE ALL CHILDREN THRIVE

ENGAGE WITH CASSANDRA

Cassandra O'Neill, CEO of Leadership Alchemy LLC, will lead an afternoon discussion, as we seek input from you about the best ways to create positive change for children and adolescents living in poverty.

She has conducted leadership development and facilitation with many foundation and nonprofit boards and staff to create new investment strategies. Cassandra led the change in investment strategy for organizations, including a community foundation that moved from annual small program grants for local organizations to multi-year investments in collaborations of multiple organizations working toward collective impact. She also designed and facilitated highly effective data driven strategic planning processes for nonprofits, coalitions, and collaborations, leading to increased transformational leadership skills exhibited in both individual and collective leadership situations, sustained action, and system-level change.

Cassandra has helped organizations throughout the country with leadership development, strategic learning and group facilitation. Among her clients are the Community Foundation for Southern Arizona, the Arizona Community Foundation, the University of Missouri and the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation and its NJ Partnership for Healthy Kids.
