

Thomas George Artists Fund Award

$5,000 Award to Support Emerging Artists Engaged in Drawing, Painting or other Visual Art Expression

About Thomas George

Thomas George was an internationally recognized artist whose work is included in the permanent collections of major museums, universities, corporations and private collections worldwide. He counted himself fortunate for having received financial support early on to study and practice his art.

While the monetary assistance he received through the G.I. Bill and from his family was modest in size, it was immense in affect, providing him with the financial freedom he needed to explore and cultivate an art career. Mr. George wished to help provide others with these same opportunities:

"Immediately following formal training, an artist may feel a bit lost at sea. That along with possible financial pressures can discourage even the most talented and dedicated. I want to help ease the financial pressure and provide an opportunity for young artists to concentrate on their craft and to experience art as a fulltime occupation."

Through this awards program, the Thomas George Artists Fund will assist emerging artists at the outset of their careers.

Purpose of the Grant

The purpose of the grant is to support living and/or other expenses for an artist to have greater freedom to dedicate full time attention to drawing, painting or other visual art expression after graduation or after completing art program coursework. This respite from the demands of school and workplace provides a time for career reflection and planning, and an opportunity to develop as an artist.

Use of the Grant

Grant monies may be used for routine living expenses, including rent, utilities, transportation, Insurance(s), food and the like. They may also be used for art supplies; travel and accommodations at locations that will facilitate the artist's drawing, painting or other visual art expression; and for nontraditional art study.
